Cost-effective. Efficient. Convenient.

Say hello to streamlined document management. Our alliance with FedEx Office helps you take advantage of deep discounts and gives you high-quality, dependable results — fast.

The innovative GPOExpressSM program from the U.S. Government Publishing Office (GPO) is available to all federal government agencies. Just use your GPOExpress account to get started.

Simplify your projects with these advantages:

- Create a wide range of documents, from training materials and brochures to oversize posters, banners and signs
- Order printing services online anywhere, anytime
- Print on demand to more than 2,100 FedEx Office locations across the country
- Have printed documents available in hours instead of days or weeks
- Strengthen your commitment to sustainability — print only what you need and reduce physical storage

Copies

Make a strong first impression with a paper stock that matches your message. Whether you're creating a handout or newsletter, these paper choices can set you apart instantly.

Consider options for color, weight, texture and sustainability as well as cost. FedEx Office offers a variety of paper choices to meet your needs. Please specify your choice when placing your order and indicate any special preferences, such as recycled content or environmental certification. If no preference is designated at the time of order, you will receive the standard white paper stock that may be updated from time to time.

Frequently Asked Questions

How do I obtain a GPOExpress Card?

Visit www.gpo.gov/gpoexpress and click on “Enroll Now” or call the FedEx Office GPOExpress account representative team at 1.866.815.4428.

Questions about an order or about turnaround time?

Contact your local FedEx Office location or the FedEx Office GPOExpress Account Representative Team at 1.866.815.4428.

Who can I call to walk me through my first order?

Our account representatives can walk you through the online ordering process. You can call the toll-free number Monday through Friday from 8am–4pm Central Standard Time at 1.866.815.4428.

How do I pay for GPOExpress purchases?

Use your GPOExpress card to pay for FedEx Office purchases. The only way to receive the GPOExpress pricing is to use the GPOExpress card. Use of any other method of payment, such as a government purchase credit card, will result in an unauthorized purchase and loss of the transaction discount.

Where is my password for online ordering? How do I reset?

“Gpoexpress1!” is the default password. To get assistance with a reset, please call 1.866.815.4428.

What is my spending limit?

Your per-transaction spending limit is listed on your card using an alphabetical character code.

If you wish to know the corresponding dollar amount of the letter on your card visit:

www.gpo.gov/docs/default-source/gpoexpress-pdf-files/gpo-spending-limits.pdf

Where is my nearest FedEx Office location? Do I have to use that particular center?

Find your nearest center at www.local.fedex.com. You can order printing at any FedEx Office center in the U.S.

What happens if I need to exceed my card limit?

Obtain written approval on a per-job basis from the authorized official who signed your GPOExpress application form. Provide a copy of the written permission to FedEx Office at the time of the purchase.

What options should I consider when choosing a paper stock?

Consider options for color, weight, texture and sustainability as well as cost. FedEx Office offers a variety of paper choices to meet your needs. Please specify your choice when placing your order and indicate any special preferences, such as recycled content or environmental certification. If no preference is designated at the time of order, you will receive the standard white paper stock.
